

S terminal 21 cable 22 video terminal 23

What is Claimed is:

1. One terminal assembly, a combination of one S and one video terminals, including:
One socket with at least 6 inlets, 4 of which are compatible with the standard 4-pin S terminal with regard to pin definition and position of mechanism; and
One adaptor with one S and one video terminals which are interconnected with one cable;
When the adaptor is plugged into the socket it is coupled via its video terminal to an electronic device with only one video terminal. And when the 4-pin terminal is plugged into the socket it is coupled to an electronic device with only one 4-pin S terminal.
2. A terminal assembly according to claim 1, wherein the socket contains at least one earth and one A/V output.

